About the speaker & the talk: The speaker was asked by his good friend who founded the museum to create a webpage providing online exposure for this free-access museum which features a full sized picture of the Shroud of Turin, the only interactive display of the VP8 Image Analyzer, a tactile model for the sight impaired among many other features. In August 2009 and the ensuing years, the speaker was faced with information he has studied in light of his own life and faith.

The talk will focus on the Shroud, its relation to the passion of Jesus Christ, Scripture and the writer's own journey in life including the presentation of his own poem on the passion event from 1985, long before he was aware there was such a relic and its implications for his own faith.

Please join us, March 26, 2013 at 7PM for this Holy Week talk as we prepare for Easter.
