

The Shroud Exhibit and Museum (SEAM) of Alamogordo, New Mexico, held a Grand Reopening celebration on March 28, 2015. There were more than 50 people in attendance for the presentation and blessing by Bishop Oscar Cantú. Local vendor Micro Doughnuts provided free treats to all the guests. Volunteers and benefactors provided light lunch and treats to guests. The festivities allowed guests to browse the displays and survey the new location's exhibit features and there were follow up questions and side discussions about the subject afterward.

Most Reverend Bishop Oscar Cantú, head of the Diocese of Las Cruces, began the celebration with a most inspiring discussion of the Shroud, its meaning to the heart of the Paschal Mystery and Scripture, and the importance of the mission to spread this teaching. A phone video presentation is available on ShroudNM.com and a professional version will soon be available through the website and will be made available in DVD format for a donation.

Special guests included Bob Evans representing White Sands Mall, the origin and home of SEAM for five-plus years. The 1900 square-foot facility and utilities were provided donated for the complete length of our stay. Deacon Dwight Harp, who introduced Pete Schumacher to Bob Evans, was there with his wife Marge. "Without their generous gift and encouragement, SEAM would not have come to exist," Schumacher said. "With the continued support of the owners of this building, who have donated the use of this space in which we now reside, and with the continued support of the Diocese of Las Cruces, benefactors, volunteers, patrons, and visitors, we hope to be able to expand our efforts on behalf of Our Lord and Savior, whom we believe is imaged and evidenced in the Shroud. It is our goal to make the Shroud an experience available to everyone - - - everywhere." We do presentations at a variety of locales for different sized groups.
